That's the whole job. No org chart, no case number, no explanation for why a stranger is paying - if they're even paying - an independent to look into three dead six-year-olds from three colonies that have nothing to do with each other.

You have three names, three colonies, and the fact that all three cases were processed through the same category of records system. That's the only thread in your hand.

Start there. See where it goes.
